

Privacy Policy

This privacy statement covers only the IRB field Services website at www.irbfieldservices.com. However, this website includes links to other websites, and these other websites are not covered by this statement.

Information collected

Your personal information may be collected through this website via the contact form and/or by email.

This information is used to provide the service you request and may be used to inform you about the other services IRB field Services may provide to you.

We preserve data for a limited time.

If you have any requests concerning your personal information or any queries with regard to this policy, please email info@irbfieldservices.com

Right to be forgotten

Article 17 of the GDPR has introduced the right for individuals to have their personal data erased (commonly known as the right to be forgotten or the right to erasure).

Individuals can make a request for erasure either verbally or in writing.

Your request will then be processed within one month (however, the right is not absolute and only applies in certain circumstances).

Please note that this right is not the only way in which the GDPR places an obligation on considering whether to delete personal data.

If you have any requests concerning your personal information or any queries with regard to this policy, please email info@irbfieldservices.com
